Foley Wines Limited 2025 Harvest

Foley Wines Limited [NZX: FWL] Interim CEO Mike Higgins today announced that the company has completed its harvest for the 2025 vintage. The harvest totalled 8,638 tonnes across the Grove Mill and Vavasour wineries in Marlborough, Te Kairanga and Martinborough Vineyard wineries in Martinborough and Mt Difficulty winery in Central Otago, an overall increase of 35% on last year's harvest of 6,404 tonnes and an increase of 6% on the 2023 harvest of 8,137 tonnes.

In Marlborough the company completed its largest harvest on record with 6,864 tonnes being harvested. Sauvignon Blanc yields across the region were well above average due to a warm dry spring and excellent growing conditions.

Central Otago experienced disruptive weather and an early frost during the growing season resulting in a region-wide reduction in yield for the 2024/2025 growing season.

“There is real excitement across the company about the outstanding quality of the vintage and our winemakers are looking forward to producing some exceptional wines that people will love to drink around the world.” said Mr Higgins.
